Pregnant and Parenting Students

PROVIDING ACCOMMODATIONS UNDER TITLE IX

Title IX is a federal law which requires schools that receive federal funds to provide reasonable accommodations to students who are pregnant or have pregnancy related conditions. This includes pregnancy, pre-natal doctor appointments, childbirth, false pregnancy, miscarriage, termination of pregnancy, or recovery from any of these conditions.

TITLE IX FOR PREGNANT AND PARENTING STUDENTS

Under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, you are entitled to reasonable accommodations for as long as your doctor deems medically necessary.

It will be important to review each student's situation individually, as reasonable accommodations will be highly dependent on the requirements of individual courses.

Examples of possible reasonable accommodations (when deemed medically necessary) are:

- Excused absences for care/recovery
- Reviewing lectures online
- Receiving assignments at home
- Opportunity to make up field/lab work
- Change in exam dates
- Assignment of an Incomplete* grade
- Allowing drops and/or withdrawals

*If student is eligible

Students may submit a request for Title IX pregnancy related accommodations at twu.edu/pregnancy-accommodation-form.
