Dear Graduate,

Today's graduation event marks the end of one journey and the beginning of another. I congratulate you on behalf of the regents, faculty and staff at Texas Woman's University and the alumni who have preceded you.

Your hard work and determination have led you through long nights of studying, writing papers and juggling classes – not to mention other commitments. Through it all, your family, friends, the faculty and staff, and your peers have provided support and encouragement. They join you today, proud of your achievements and excited for your future.

A Brief History of Texas Woman's University

The unique history of Texas Woman's University started before the turn of the 20th century with a revolutionary idea – higher education for women.

In 1901, the 27th Texas Legislature created Texas Woman's University. When TWU offered its first classes in 1903 in Denton, the institution was called the Girls Industrial College of Texas. Three name changes later – the College of Industrial Arts (CIA) in 1905, Texas State College for Women in 1934 and TWU in 1957 – the university has expanded its curriculum to offer bachelor's, master's, specialist and doctoral degrees in more than 70 areas of study in traditional and nontraditional fields for women. The university became fully co-ed in 1994. In 2021, Texas Woman's became the nation's first university system focused on women and the seventh university system in the state of Texas.

Throughout TWU's history, the institution has emphasized academic excellence, professional preparation and personal growth for all students. The university's dedication to learning was reflected in the establishment of its first graduate programs in 1930; TWU awarded its first doctoral degrees in 1953. That growth took new directions (literally) when TWU opened the Institute of Health Sciences Houston and Dallas Centers in 1960 and 1966, respectively.

Today, the university is comprised of five colleges – in the arts and sciences, business, health sciences, nursing, and professional education – and a graduate school. The university now has an enrollment of approximately 15,500 students, and the Texas Legislature in 2021 created the Texas Woman's University System, launching a new era in the university's history that will eventually transform its campuses in Dallas and Houston into stand-alone universities. In 2024, the university named Monica Christopher its inaugural president of the Dallas campus, and Monica Williams, Ph.D., as its inaugural president of the Houston campus.

A Brief Guide to TWU Commencement

Commencement celebrates the culmination of a student's education at TWU. Each university has its own symbols and traditions that are part of the commencement experience. Here is some information to help you enjoy TWU's unique commencement ceremony.

TWU Symbols

◆ The Seal of the University – The official seal of Texas Woman's University is used on all formal documents, such as the degrees awarded by the institution. The seal appears on the academic banners for the colleges of the university that adorn the commencement platform. The design of the seal incorporates the star, which represents the State of Texas, and the university motto, Scientia Lumen Vitae, which means "Knowledge Illumines Life."

◆ The Mace of the University – The mace is carried at all formal university ceremonies, such as commencement. Today, the provost carries the mace down the aisle leading the academic procession. Designed and handmade in 1977 by Alfred E. Green, associate professor of art, the mace is a symbol of the spirit and nature of the university. The mace is a staff of rare vermillion wood topped with a silver sphere banded by ivory. The silver sphere is repeated at the base, and a gold seal of the university is embedded in the shaft.

◆ The President's Medallion – The medallion worn by the chancellor and president bears the seal of the university on its face and the names of the university's presidents on the reverse. Encircling the presidents' names are the four names by which Texas Woman's University has been known since its founding in 1901. In 2003, Ingrid Psuty, M.F.A., created the medallion and chain of fine silver and burgundy enamel.

TWU Academic Regalia

◆ The edging of velvet on the master's and doctoral hoods indicates the degree received:

For example, the red, white and blue honor cords worn today by graduating veterans and active military symbolize our recognition of their accomplishments and appreciation for their service.

by Francis Scott Key

*Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*

by Mamie Walker, Class of 1917

*Hail, Alma Mater! Hail!
