

Hey guys, I'm Kelly Cortez. I'm a second-year student. I am a child development pre-occupational therapy major and I'm getting ready to participate in the open rec All-Star game. So, my favorite thing about intramurals is just the environment and how positive and all of the loving and funny relationships that we have with everybody and then we're all participating in a sport that we love or like at least. Coming to play intramurals and being a part of that is such a quick stress relief because you're still, I guess, working out or whatever but you're with your friends so you don't even notice and you're socializing and still laughing and having fun so it's a great place to be.
